Post Adoption Support Services (PASS) offer services which respond to the needs of those whose lives are affected by adoption.

Relationships Australia
SOUTH AUSTRALIA

What is Post Adoption Support Services?

Post Adoption Support Services (PASS) offer services which respond to the needs of those whose lives include either local and/or intercountry adoption.

Our services are tailored towards supporting mothers and fathers who lost a child to adoption, those who have been adopted and adoptive parents. Family members can also access our service

What can PASS provide?

PASS runs seminars and workshops throughout the year, addressing a broad range of adoption-related topics such as:

- Search and reunion
- Trauma and attachment informed parenting programs
- Identity and belonging
- Parenting and family issues
- Insights into adoption
- Mentor group for younger adoptees
- Plus many more.

We also provide:

- Information on a broad range of adoption issues
- Face to face and telephone counselling on adoption related matters
- Support and assistance in searching for family, either local or inter-country
- Support and mediation with family reunions
- Support groups for people affected by adoption
- Links to adoption community groups
- Referral to adoption-friendly services.

Professional Development Training

PASS also provides professional development training on adoption-related issues for counsellors, social workers and professionals.

For more information and/or to be placed on our mailing list, please contact PASS directly or complete and return the form in this brochure.

Who are we?

The PASS team have extensive skills in counselling and group work, as well as facilitating workshops and training. Our experience also includes assisting those who are on the search and reunion journey, for both local and intercountry adoption.
